Out Area

Where international, state, and/or county boundaries coincide, the map shows the boundary symbol for only the highest-ranking of these boundaries.

1 A - following a place name indicates that the place is coextensive with a MCD. A - indicates that the place is also a false MCD; the false MCD name is not shown.

2 This map shows tribal census tract boundaries and numbers within the subject entity; nontribal census tract boundaries are shown outside of the subject entity but without numbers. A tribal census tract is a type of census tract defined within a federally recognized American Indian reservation or off-reservation trust land for the purpose of providing data based on an American Indian hierarchy rather than by state and county. Where reservations or off-reservation trust lands cross state or county boundaries, the same tribal census tract number may be assigned on both sides of the boundary, and, if so, constitutes a single tribal census tract entity.

3 A - following a block number indicates that the block number is repeated elsewhere in the block.

Where international, state, and/or county boundaries coincide, the map shows the boundary symbol of only the highest-ranking of these boundaries.

¹ A “-” following a place name indicates that the place is coextensive with a MCD. A “-” indicates that the place is also a false MCD, the false MCD name is not shown.

² This map shows tribal census tract boundaries and numbers within the subject entity; continental census tract boundaries are not shown outside of the subject entity but without numbers. A tribal census tract is a type of census tract defined within a federal tribe’s recognized state and county boundaries or off-reservation trust land for the purpose of providing data based on an American Indian sovereignty that is not recognized by the federal government or off-reservation trust lands cross state or county boundaries, the same tribal census tract may be assigned on both sides of the boundary, and, if so, constitutes a single tribal census tract entity.

Where international, state, and/or county boundaries coincide, the map shows the highest level of boundary. The following legend explains the symbols used on the map:

- A * - following a place name indicates that the place is coextensive with a MCD. A - indicates that the place is also a false MCD; the false MCD name is shown.
- This map shows tribal census tract boundaries and numbers within the subject entity. Tribal census tracts are shown outside of the subject entity, but without numbers. A tribal census tract is a type of census tract defined within a federally recognized American Indian reservation or of reservation status for the purpose of federal Indian law. It is not an American Indian hierarchy rather than by state and county. Where reservations overlap, the reservation boundaries are shown. Tribal census tracts are not tribal census tracts may be assigned on both sides of the boundary, and, if so, constitutes a single tribal census tract.
- A - following a block number indicates that the block number is repeated elsewhere in the block.
